

JobMaker hiring credit scheme

By Fordham

4 February 2021

On the 1st February 2021 the Australian Government opened up the first claim period for the JobMaker Hiring Credit Scheme. This first claim period is open until the 30 April 2021, however the scheme itself will run until 6 October 2022.

You may recall from last year, the JobMaker Hiring Credit Scheme is a new government initiative providing incentive to businesses who employ additional young job seekers.

The JobMaker Hiring Credit will be claimed quarterly in arrears by the employer from the ATO from 1 February 2021. Employers will need to report information about their entitlement quarterly.

Key take outs

- Businesses must show an increase in both employee headcount and payroll with incentive payments received being reflective of the number of eligible employees hired.
- Under the scheme businesses can receive incentive payments for up to 12 months for each eligible additional employee hired between 7 October 2020 and 6 October 2021.
- Eligible employers may receive payments of up to $200 per week for each eligible additional employee hired between the ages of 16-29 and up to $100 per week for eligible employees hired between the ages of 30 and 35.
- To satisfy the requirements of the scheme eligible employees must have received income support payments (including the JobSeeker Payment, youth allowance or Parenting Payments) for at least 28 consecutive days (or two fortnights) within the 84 days (six fortnights) before being hired.
- Eligible employees must also be completing a minimum of 20 hours paid work per week for their employer to qualify for incentive payments.
- Eligible employers have registered, operate a business in Australia, have an ABN, are registered for pay as you go withholding, have not claimed JobKeeper payments for a fortnight that started during the JobMaker period, report using Single Touch Payroll, and are up to date with income tax and GST returns.
