

Welcoming Lisa Stribley and Sean Nguyen to Fordham

By Fordham

11 February 2026

At Fordham, we're passionate about attracting exceptional talent who share our values and vision. We're thrilled to welcome two outstanding professionals - Lisa Stribley as Lead Partner and Sean Nguyen as Partner, further strengthening our team of trusted advisors.

With over 20 years of experience in accounting, taxation and business advisory, Lisa brings deep expertise and a collaborative approach to helping privately owned businesses and families navigate complexity and achieve their goals. Her recent focus on finance function efficiency, leveraging outsourced talent, streamlined processes and technology, aligns perfectly with our commitment to delivering smarter, more agile solutions for clients. A proud Melburnian, Lisa spent 17 years managing her own accounting firm and more than 11 years as Partner at Deloitte Private. Known for her ability to simplify complexity and build long-term relationships, Lisa is a trusted advisor who helps families and businesses grow with confidence.

Also joining us is Sean Nguyen, a Partner who thrives at critical inflection points such as scaling, restructuring, succession planning and solving complex tax issues. Sean works closely with private businesses, family groups and ambitious startups, helping them make strategic decisions that truly matter. Recognised as a 'Coaching Superstar,' Sean is passionate about mentoring and developing talent, believing that strong relationships and empowered teams are the foundation for sustainable growth. Also a proud Melburnian, Sean balances life with two young kids, a love of coffee, and an unwavering hope for his favourite NBA and AFL teams.

Learn more and connect with both Lisa and Sean here:

Lisa and Sean's arrival is a testament to our commitment to building a team of trusted advisors who deliver exceptional outcomes for our clients.